

TECHART launches new individualization concept GTsport for Porsche 911 Turbo S.

TECHART unveils the limited customization concept GTsport for the Porsche 911 Turbo S (992) at the Tokyo Auto Salon 2024 from January 12-14.

Leonberg, January 11th, 2024 – TECHART GTsport is a modular individualization concept for the 992 series Porsche 911 Turbo S model, limited to 30 units worldwide. Its defined scope of customization allows a high level of individuality that sets the GTsport apart from any stock 911 Turbo S. In addition, a range of optional GTsport refinement add-ons are at the customers' choice in order to adjust the personal GTsport specification to perfection with individual details.

Even though the TECHART range is literally endless, configuring a TECHART GTsport is an exceptionally easy task to handle, thanks to the modular architecture of the GTsport personalization program.

Highlights of the TECHART GTsport Signature Scope:

- Front Apron with Side Canards (optional scope: visible carbon fiber inserts), Side Skirts and Side Air Intakes (optional scope: visible carbon fiber)
- Rear Diffuser (optional scope: visible carbon fiber inserts), Air Outlets for Rear Apron and Carbon Rear Spoiler I (optional scope: visible carbon fiber)
- Carbon Aero Hood (optional scope: visible carbon fiber)
- TECHART GTsport Assets (GTsport badge and lettering)
- TECHART Refined Interior or TECHART GTsport Exclusive Interior (optional scope)
- TECHART Formula VI Race (optional scope: TECHART Carbon Aero Discs) or TECHART Formula VII Race
- TECHART Power Kit TA 092/T1.1 or TECHART Power Kit TA 092/T2.1 (optional scope)
- More individual options, e.g. Side Mirror Trims, Threaded Spring Kit, TECHART Exhaust System Sport and Carbon Tailpipe Kit
